

Are you interested in a paid PhD position (career) with full salary & some extra perks?

How about a fully funded research position that covers your tuition, material, and travel costs? 😊

Assist. Prof. Marko Budler from 'our' School of Economics and Business is inviting you to apply for the Young Researchers Programme — and yes, both domestic and international students are welcome (no Slovenian required)! But don't snooze — the deadline is in early May. For all the details and how to apply, check out this link (<https://www.uni-lj.si/en/university/public-announcements/call-to-tender-for-young-researchers>) and feel free to contact marko.budler@ef.uni-lj.si with any questions.

In a nutshell, here's our offering's repertoire:

- Full-time employment for 4 years (standard employment contract),
- Monthly salary + additional funds for research expenses and conferences,
- Fully funded PhD tuition fees, and Doctoral research on the topic of interest,
- Annual teaching commitment of approx. 50 hours (e.g., assisting in Informatics),
- Opportunities for further employment at SEB LU after PhD "journey" completion.

Time to turn curiosity into a career with us at SEB LU!
